

„Modern Day Heroes do not have thirteen members, only three. And their new album, released on 13 December 2019, is not their 13th, it's their fifth. The title does have some significance, however. It refers to the number of years the band have been together. This in fact gave them as good a reason as any for another vinyl celebration. They decided to do so with „Thirteen“, a selection of 13 remastered evergreens from their back catalogue, plus two previously unreleased cover Versions – including Eels' "Souljacker", a long time staple and one of the band's favorite songs – and three cracking brand new songs. "Thirteen" is released on German label brillJant Sounds Purveyors of extra-dynamic power rock in the classic style with some unexpected undertones, Modern Day Heroes – Serge Christen (vox, guit), Yves Fontana (bass), Heinz Baumann (drums) – have a knack for dead catchy melodies. Having played hundreds of shows at home and abroad over the years, they are also a seriously exciting live act. Hailing from Biel, a small town in Central Switzerland where French is spoken alongside German, Modern Day Heroes released their fourth CD only last year." RELEASES

„Glatt geschliffen wird woanders. Der Charakter, den der Opener ausmacht, zieht sich durch alle 18 Nummern auf dem Album. Immer wieder sind es die kantigen Rock-Klänge mit ordentlich Drive dahinter, mitreißenden Hooklines und abwechslungsreichem Songwriting.“ (Monkey Press – Review Thirteen)
